Everything Legs & Beyond Master Class

The Importance of Strength Training for Dancers - What good is flexibility if you don't have the strength to properly utilize it to the fullest extent? For dancers, practicing and strengthening core muscles is one of the most important measures in training. Whether you're a ballet, contemporary, hip-hop, or any other style dancer, movement quality starts with a strong core. Your core includes all of the muscles in the mid-section of your body – abdominal muscles as well as your low-mid back muscles and even your hip muscles.

Registration is needed for all students $49 (included with the Alliance Plus Plan).

Stretch & Conditioning

A class using everything we can possibly teach to get you as limber as can be. If you feel that your flexibility could do with some improvement... This may just be what you are looking for!

As a multi discipline studio we often hear people saying that they are just not conditioned correctly to attempt different activities. This is where our Condition class comes into its own. In our Condition class you will learn how to strengthen key target areas as well as build up your stamina for better endurance. Bring a yoga mat or blanket and optional hand weights to maximize your experience. Attire: Wear whatever you feel comfortable in as long as it's relatively form fitting.

Class tuition $20 (included in the Alliance Plus Plan and all guest must be registered).
